

Professional Development Dinner Meeting

Tuesday, February 19, 2019

6:00 p.m. – Hilton Greenville

“Supply Chain Innovation: Strategies for Protecting Your Company from Disruption”

Presenter – Daniel Stanton, President, SecureMarking, Inc

Presenter:

Daniel Stanton is known as “Mr. Supply Chain”. He is the author of Supply Chain Management for Dummies, which has been an Amazon best-seller since its release in 2017. His LinkedIn Learning courses on supply chain management and project leadership have been viewed over 750,000 times.

Mr. Stanton is president and co-founder of SecureMarking, Inc., a venture capital-backed supply chain technology startup. With investments from the National Science Foundation and TechStars, SecureMarking is leveraging cutting-edge innovations to protect supply chains from counterfeiting and theft.

Stanton earned his masters of engineering degree from the Center for Transportation and Logistics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is also a doctoral researcher at Cranfield University in the United Kingdom where he studies the impact of emerging technologies on the evolution of global supply chains.

Program Synopsis:

Supply Chain Innovation: Strategies for Protecting Your Company from Disruption

How has innovation impacted your supply chain? Maybe more than you think! And the pace of innovation in the next few years presents a serious risk to many of today’s supply chains. Join us for a discussion about how you can manage this risk and leverage innovation as a part of your supply chain strategy.

Thanks!

Daniel